

What is it?

- Placing your hand gently over your heart while breathing slowly and offering yourself soothing words

Why does it work?

- Touch and warmth signal safety. This gesture can release oxytocin, calm the brain, and promote emotional regulation.

What did you say to yourself while placing your hand on your heart?	What physical or emotional shifts did you notice?